IX. To prevent inaccuracy in the delivery, and inconvenience in the settlement of the purchases, no lot can on any account be removed during the time of sale.

X.  The first page bears the heading "General Wolfe's Orders," and commences with the orders issued at Halifax, 30th April, 1759, for the embarkation of the expedition, together with a list of the Regiments and Officers. The Orders then proceed day by day, as issued at various places, down to Sept. 12, the day before the battle when Wolfe was killed ; and are subsequently continued by the orders of General Townshend and General Murray, &c. down to April 28, 1760. At the end is a short account of General Wolfe, the manner of his death, and the landing of his remains at Portsmouth. Many of the Orders agree with the text given in Knox's Journal, yet there are considerable variations, and this MS. is fuller in many places and apparently contains many Orders not given by Knox at all.

It is the manual of the Inquisition in the form of an alphabetical dictionary.  The author of this extremely valuable and important manuscript was one of the celebrated band of buccaneers under the command of M. de Gennes, whose history is recorded in Froger's well-known work. He was shipwrecked in the Straits of Magellan about 1688, and shortly afterwards joined the buccaneering expedition of M. de Beauchesne-Gouin as second in command. This manuscript seems to have been compiled while engaged on this expedition. In addition to the very exact survey of the different harbours and ports, a detailed account is given of the inhabitants of

The work also contains a long vocabulary of the buccaneer language; estimated by those best able to judge, the most valuable work of the kind known. 256 BURNS (ROBERT) A Glass Tumbler used by him, and presented to the present owner (Mr. Muir) by Mrs. Hutchinson, daughter of Colonel James Glencairn Burns, the Poet's third son

 The relic is enclosed in a handsome oak case, lined with green velvet, and secured by a lock. On one side of the tumbler is engraved an enlarged copy of the Poet's seal, or Burns' arms, as it is styled by the family, and on the other side of the glass the following inscription is cut out in small and capital letters in alternate lines, "This glass, once the property of ROBERT BURNS, was presented by the POET'S WIDOW TO JAMES ROBINSON, ESQ., and given by his WIDOW to her Son-in-law, MAJOR JAMES GLENCAIRN BURNS, 1840." The following letter, in the holograph of the donor, gives the history of the relic:

3, Berkeley Street, Cheltenham, July 6, 1892. My dear Mr. Muir,— . . . . I purpose sending you by the Parcels Post to-night, enclosed in a box, a tumbler that belonged to my grandfather the Poet, and hope you will accept it from me. I believe he had four of them, but one has been broken. The one I now send you was given by my grandmother, Jean Armour, to Mr. James Robinson of Sunderland. He was father of my mother, who died when I was born. When my father returned from India, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Robinson, gave this tumbler to my father, and he had the inscription and his father's coat-of-arms engraved on the glass . . . . Now for the history of the box. It was made from one of the piles of old London Bridge. The light pieces of oak are from the "Royal George." My father had them given him by friends . . . . Yours sincerely, S. Hutchinson.

277 BYRON (LORD) ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT POEM, 1 p. 4to, in Lord Byron's handwriting, "On a Royal Visit to the Vaults" — 10 5 .

Famed for their civil and domestic quarrels
See heartless Henry lies by headless Charles,
Between them stands another sceptred thing,
It lives, it reigns—"aye, every inch a king,"
Charles to his people—Henry to his Wife,
In him the double tyrant starts to Life,
Justice and Death have mixed their dust in vain,
The royal vampires join and rise again.
What now can tombs avail—since these disgorge
The "blood and dirt" of both to mould a George.

 This interesting manuscript varies in many ways from the printed version, which was published under the title of "Windsor Poetics." It was given to Mr. Norbury by Mr. Dallas, Lord Byron's friend (not relative), and bears on the wrapper enclosing it: "The Original Impromptu within is in the handwriting of the Noble Author Lord Byron, given to Mr. Norbury by Mr. Dallas his Lordships valued relative." In the Greek quotation from Suetonius, with translation, "Clay kneaded with blood," the Greek words are accented in a manner peculiar to Lord Byron.

30 . . 479 CLOG. AN ANCIENT "CLOG" OR PERPETUAL ALMANACK, of Crab-apple wood, 18¼ in. long by 1¾ in. broad, in very good preservation, undated Sherro

 This interesting and ancient "Clog," or Notched-Stave Almanack is identical, even to minute details in almost all the Symbolism, with a Clog in the Library of St. John's College, Cambridge. In most respects the two agree with another, larger, Clog in the British Museum. Dr. Plot has described a similar one in the Bodleian (of which an MS. account and a drawing of the Clog accompany this lot). The system for the Golden Number is the usual one of the Roman notation, with the letter cyphers placed vertically to suit the arrangement for space. The first, or January side, contains 84 days, from Jan. 1 to March 25; the second side contains 91 days, from March 26 to June 24; the third side, 98 days, from June 25 to Sept. 30; and the fourth side, 92 days, from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31. It has 66 Symbols and Mark days. A small brass ring, for suspending the instrument, is in the upper end.

746 HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS AD USUM PARISIENSIS ECCLESIÆ, cum Calendario, A RICHLY ILLUMINATED MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM (204 ll.) finely written in bold gothic characters in red and black, by a French scribe (calendar and some prayers in French), EVERY PAGE SURROUNDED BY AN EXQUISITE BORDER OF FINELY PAINTED AND ILLUMINATED FLOWER AND LEAFY SCROLLS, FRUITS, GROTESQUE ANIMALS, ETC. the calendar has the Signs of the Zodiac and representations of the Occupations of the Months, in an unconventional manner, and there are many fine illuminated ornamental initials and details, besides 13 LARGE AND VERY RICHLY PAINTED MINIATURES of superior execution, bound in purple velvet SÆC. XV

 A CHARMING MANUSCRIPT EVIDENTLY ILLUMINATED BY A CLEVER ARTIST, very important for its costumes. Some of the details in the borders are very quaint and interesting: a girl swinging, a full-length figure of a knight armed cap-à-pie in black armour, two soldiers fighting, a monster riding a green dragon with a peacock's tail, a white rabbit sitting on quite a modern pair of fire bellows, a swan with a golden crown on its neck swimming in a tank, etc. The gilding of the MS. is exceptionally thick, rich and brilliant.

747 HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS, [SECUNDUM USUM ECCLESIÆ BISUNTINENSIS,] cum Calendario. HEURES DE NOSTRE DAME [SELON L'USAIGE DE BESANÇON], avec le Calendrier et les Rubriques en français, a MAGNIFICENT MANUSCRIPT UPON FINE VELLUM (172 ll.) beautifully written in large gothic characters by a French scribe, with the capital letters illuminated, each page having a broad border very richly painted with flowers and ornamental work in colours and gold; there are also 16 LARGE AND BEAUTIFUL MINIATURE PAINTINGS of great merit, each of which is surrounded by an elaborate border of exceptional grandeur, composed of delicate interlaced work with flowers, birds, nondescripts, etc. bound in dark brown morocco, blind tooled in an excellent manner with fleurs-de-lis and other ornaments, leather joints, vellum flyleaves, g. e. preserved in a leather lined case SÆC. XV

 This remarkably handsome manuscript is a fine example of the art of the French illuminators of the latter part of the XVth century, most gorgeous in its decoration, due to the brilliancy of the colouring and a lavish use of burnished gold throughout. The Calendar is written in letters of gold, blue and red. The Rubrics are for the most part in French, as are also some of the Prayers, including "Les doulce xv joyes de N. Dame." The manuscript is evidently intended for the Use of Besançon from the occurrence in the Calendar and Litany of the special Saints attached to that diocese. On a blank leaf of vellum at the commencement are the beautifully emblazoned arms of a bishop, apparently added in the XVIIth century.

The binding is a fine specimen of the work of Louis Bloc, who bound books at Bruges in the latter part of the 15th and early part of the 16th centuries

 The book belonged to Jehan de Cerf, echevin of the Liberty of Bruges (died 24 Sept. 1554, aged 69). He gave it to his eldest daughter (by his first wife Judoca van Schoore) Mary, on Jan. 11th, 1525. She married John Spronehoff and left the book to her son Philip. The flyleaves contain several notes about the family of De Cerf, which had settled in French Flanders as early as the 14th century, and about that of Spronehoff. The illuminations are of the usual type of the place and period, but the binding is very good, and in excellent condition.

Pickeri

 AN IMPORTANT, INTERESTING AND VALUABLE MANUSCRIPT OF ENGLISH OR ANGLO-NORMAN ORIGIN. After the Calendar, the text begins with the Prayer "Deus Omnipotens Pater filius et Spiritus Sanctus" followed by the Hymn "Gaude Virgo." Then follow the "Memoriae Sanctorum et Sanctarum." After which come the Psalter and Hours of the B. V. M., the Litany and Suffrages, and the usual contents of Books of Hours of the Period. The Miniatures of the Saints and Apostles number 61 and include the names of many Distinctly English Saints, amongst which are St. George, S. Edmund, S. Thomas à Becket, S. Lambert, S. Dunstan, S. John of Beverley, S. Cuthbert, S. Alban, S. Winifrede, S. Ethelreda, S. Editha, S. Frideswide, &c. Many of the Miniatures are very finely drawn and excel in the matter of Costume, but some of the faces, especially the females, are feebly portrayed, and many of the features are partly erased or damaged. Of the costumes some are distinctively English, and others French, in two instances male figures have their hose of different colours ; a small miniature contains 3 Angels with a cherubim in red in the background on reverse of leaf 19, who are very cleverly grouped and draped, and many of the Saints are arrayed in the Ecclesiastical costume of the period. The man scourging Christ is very energetically drawn. Most of the figures have backgrounds of richly illuminated Chequers, and the nimbuses and other details are very thickly gilded. There is a small very spirited miniature of the beheading of a Bishop on reverse of leaf 46, and others of a similar character on other leaves. In the Calendar and in other places occurs a coat of arms, Sable, 3 bells Arg. On reverse of leaf 21, the same coat impaled with a lion rampant or, and on the reverse of leaf 88 a kneeling figure attended by an angel with the arms of the 3 bells below. These are said to be the bearings of the Porters of Very Hall, Westmoreland, and may be also of other families. Many bear the motto "Aultre ne veul mes." Apart from the value and importance of this fine manuscript as a specimen of the Art of the Mediaeval Scribe and Miniaturist, it has an added interest from the fact of its having formerly belonged to the old Fitzgeralds, EARLS OF KILDARE. The Calendar has several entries of the births, deaths and burials of members of the family, apparently all written in the 16th Century. These entries extend from A.D. 1254 to 1555, and record the names of some who have figured in History. Amongst other MS. entries are those of Tiptoft, Earl of Worcester (beheaded 1470), Norton of Rylstro ? and others. Altogether the present MS. is one of unusual interest and high value. About 4 ll. are missing, and some of the miniatures are soiled and partly defaced. Full printed descriptions by H. J. Moule, M.A. and the Hon. Mrs. Swinton accompany the MS. which is enclosed in a wooden case.

This volume in a complete state is unique, and is peculiarly interesting and remarkable as being for the two uses of Salisbury and York. Service books for the latter are known to be much more uncommon than those of Salisbury.

FOLIO.

1285 NELSON (Horatio, Lord). A MOST IMPORTANT SERIES OF TWENTY LONG AND MOST INTERESTING AUTOGRAPH LETTERS OF THIS EMINENT ADMIRAL, WRITTEN MOSTLY TO HIS FRIEND, LORD HOOD, DURING THE SIEGE OF TOULON, 1794, COVERING 46 PP. FOLIO AND 4TO; Fourteen of the Letters are signed in full "Horatio Nelson" and written with the right hand, one has the signature cut away, and one is unsigned, the remaining four are written with his left hand and signed "Nelson & Bronte." In addition to the Letters of Lord Nelson himself the collection is made vastly more interesting by the addition of several Portraits of Lord Nelson, Lady Hamilton, and various Admirals and Captains who served under him, the Original Printed Order of his Funeral Procession, a Coloured Engraving of his Funeral Car by George Cruikshank, Ticket for his Funeral in St. Paul's Cathedral, signed by the Dean (Tomline, Bishop of Lincoln), with seal; the collection is also further enhanced by Letters and Documents, signed, of the following Admirals and others connected with him—A. J. Ball, extract from a Letter from Admiral Ball to Lord Collingwood, dated Malta, 22 July, 1805, asking protection to the British Trade, "Lord Nelson stationed the vessels named in the margin for the Protection of the Trade in the Adriatic and Levant. LOT 1285, NELSON (Lord) Autograph Letters, &c.—continued.

Sir B. Hallowell, Sir David Gould, Sir Thomas Peyton, Sir Samuel Hood, Sir James Saumarez, Sir Thomas Foley, Capt. G. Blagdon Westcott (killed, his monument in St. Paul's), Capt. Fremantle, Capt. Bligh, Capt. Riou, Capt. Hardy, and many others, the whole contained in a handsome half morocco folio album. A few extracts from the Letters of Lord Nelson will give a slight idea of their interest

A. L. s. 3½ pp. 4to (with his right hand), Agamemnon, Feb. 24, 1794, Cape Corsi, off Bastia

Troops may be landed and a good road for marching all the way to Bastia, but not for heavy artillery, but probably landing places may be found to the Northward of Bastia, much nearer than 3 miles. Interesting letter relating to the enemy's movements, &c.

A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to (with his right hand), Agamemnon, off Bastia, March 18, 1794, interesting letter in reference to the movements of the enemy, mentions Bastia to the North is certainly not a place of strength. I have never understood the force in Bastia to be more than 800 or 1000 regular, & 12 or 1500 irregulars. With fine weather if necessary I am certain we could starve Bastia. I am sure my hearty endeavours shall not be wanting to get it some way or another, &c. &c.

A. L. (signature cut away), 1 p. 4to, Agamemnon, June 7, 1794, in reference to ships' stores

A. L. s. 3 pp. 4to (with his right hand), Agamemnon, near Calvi, June 19, 1794, mentions that General Steward was anxious to proceed on an expedition against Calvi in which he heartily concurred with him, gives interesting details of his ship, men, &c.

A. L. s. 4 pp. 4to (with his right hand), Camp, June 21, 1794, mentions that the place seems stronger than General Steward expected to find it

Our landing place is very bad, the rocks break in this weather so far from the shore, and the mountains we have to drag the guns up so long and so steep that the whole of yesterday we were only able to get one gun up, and then we have one mile and a half at least to drag them.

A. L. s. 2½ pp. 4to (with his right hand), Camp, June 23, 1794, in reference to shot that he requires, "No more guns have been able to be landed, the swell has been so great."

A. L. s. 1 p. 4to, June 23, 1794 (with his right hand), to General Steward, giving list of guns required.

A L. s. 3 pp. 4to (with his right hand), Camp, June 25, 1794, to Lord Hood

"We go on well, and although we have in appearance a great deal of hard work to get through yet I have no doubt but it will be accomplished in a proper manner," mentions various articles required for the seamen, &c. &c.

A. L. s. (with his right hand) 2½ pp. 4to, Camp, June 30, 1794, to the same, gives various interesting details of the troops, &c., mentions "we want provisions for the seamen on shore, particularly meat," &c. &c.

A. L. s. (with his right hand) 3 pp. folio, Battery, July 31, 1794

The Climate is the only enemy we have to fear; that we can never conquer, the Garrison know it and wished to make use of their knowledge, our fire has had all the effect which could be hoped for; except one general discharge and a gun now and then stole at us, we have had no opposition, &c. &c.

Return of Officers and Seamen serving on shore, in the autograph of Lord Nelson and signed, dated Aug. 1, 1794, 3 pp. 4to, and sent to Lord Hood

A. L. s. (with his right hand), 2 pp. 4to. Camp., Aug. 2, 1794, to Lord Hood, mentions a truce granted, "the officers who came out were very inquisitive about the terms which were granted to Bastia," &c.

A. L. 4 pp. 4to, Agamemnon, Genoa Mole, Sep. 23, 1794

As Mr. Drake was not arrived I found it absolutely necessary to say something civil, which I did in the following words, "I should pay the strictest attention to the neutrality of Genoa, and should be happy in doing anything in my power to cement the harmony which subsisted between the two nations. The Doge was much pleased and very civil, saying he thanked me for my expressions of friendship, and begged to assure me that it should be reciprocated on his part, that he was happy always to see English men-of-war in Genoa," &c.

A. L. s. 2½ pp. 4to, Agamemnon, Leghorn, Nov. 28, 1794, to John McArthur, Esq. in reference to Bastai and Calvi prize money, "what I have got at present is nothing, what I have lost is an eye, £300 and my health," &c.

A. L. s. (with his right hand) 1 p. folio, Vado Bay, Aug. 31, 1795, to the same, in reference to prizes, &c.

A. L. s. (with his right hand) 2 pp. 4to, Captain off Cadiz, April 10, 1797

I send you my opinion relative to Bastia and Calvi, and desire that should the unjust claims of the Windsor Castle and Inflexible, with many others, be attended to, that a claim is laid for the San Fiorenzo, for the Agamemnon, as she was one of the ships actually employed in the blockade of the port, &c.

A. L. s. (with his left hand) 1 p. 4to, n. d., "is sorry that both Lady Hamilton and himself are obliged to go to London to-morrow morning."

A. L. s. (with his left hand), 1 p. 4to, Merton, April 28, 1802, to John McArthur, franked, on money matters, also mentions, "I have been and am very unwell, and these prize concerns torment me."

A. L. s. (with his left hand) April 6, 1803, mentions

Having just lost my dear friend, Sir William Hamilton, I can only answer your kind letter respecting Mr. Moore, as he is to go into the Victory, which will be commissioned on Saturday next at Chatham.

A. L. s. (with his left hand) 1 p. 4to, April 11, 1803, to John McArthur, mentions the "Victory"

excudebat Londini, Joannes Mayler, anno dñi 1540 4

 This EXCEEDINGLY RARE volume was edited by Walter Delaine, the personage appointed by Henry VIII to superintend the publication of all versions of the Scriptures. He calls himself "Regiæ Majestatis Anglicanæ Biblioscopus," an office, of which we meet with no other evidence or trace, and professes to have followed the most ancient Greek MSS. and to present a much purer text than any so far extant. He introduces the work by a long preface (pp. 40) addressed to the King. It is the earliest Latin Testament published in England by royal authority. Such an unusually fine copy as the present is most difficult to procure.
